BROKEN SPIRITS

BOOK SIGNING BY ONTRESICIA AVERETTE

Saturday, February 22nd

1 pm to 3 pm

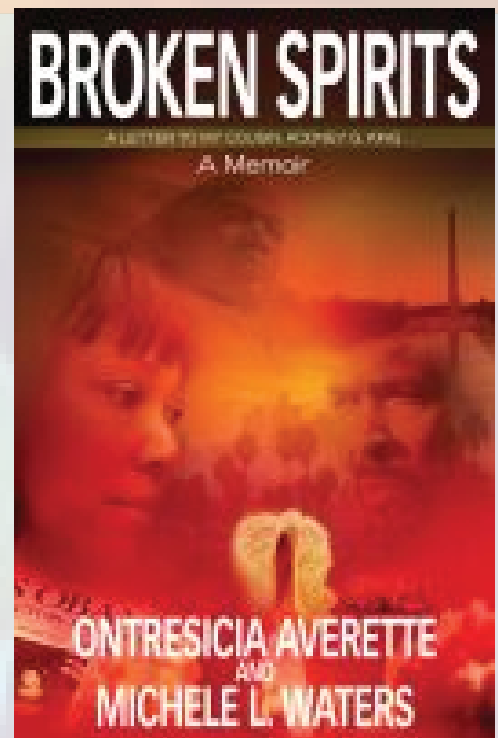

In a tenacious search of her purpose in life, Ontresicia discovered her passion: to promote tolerance, and cohesion among people of all races, ethnicities, and cultures. She has established forums to educate, and share life experiences, as a motivator to fully, live and celebrate the greatest gift of all: LIFE.

Ontresicia Averette is the Creator, Producer, and Host of a Pasadena Community Network talk show: The Color of Success. It was created to Showcase, Motivate, and Celebrate: Culture, Creativity and Success of ordinary people, and designed to inspire viewers to discover their passions and begin to accept and live a life of success.

About Broken Spirits

Officially released on April 27, 2012 to commemorate the LA Riots 20th Anniversary, Broken Spirits: A letter to my cousin Rodney G. King is a story that had never been told and will reintroduce its readers to the social injustices that continue to plague many communities worldwide.

Averette, King's cousin, business partner and confidant discloses intimate details of King and his struggle while simultaneously fighting to maintain peace in her life from encountering vast amount of gender and racial discrimination.
